

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, September 15. 1702.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, Dated Sept. 14.

The Journal of the Imperialists encamped near Luzara from the 20th of August to the 27th inclusive.

AUG. 20. The Bridge which the Enemy have laid over the Po is finish'd, a Convoy is arriv'd in their Camp from Reggio, their Army has been without Bread for some days. 21. The Enemy have sent over the Po their sick and wounded. All the Deserters report that there are a great number of the Enemy wounded, and that our Cannon has done them considerable Damage; They have finish'd their Battery over against our Right Wing, from which they have begun to cannonade us, but without doing us much hurt: We have thrown up Breastworks to cover us: The Enemy have drawn off the Cannon that were on their Batterys against Borgoforte. The Lieutenant Colonels Van Horn and Waldstein and Major Huttendorf are dead of their Wounds. 22. The Enemy have rais'd several Batteries besides that against our Right, which incommode us but little. Ours do them much Damage; our Bullets reach to Luzara, where we kill'd three Captains at one Shot: The Enemy having begun to raise a Battery very near our Lines, over against the Place where the Regiment of Gehlen is posted, and which might do much damage, Prince Eugene commanded Captain Ederick and Captain Schonborn with 3 Companies of Grenadiers to charge them when it began to grow dark, and to post themselves on their Works, which was executed successfully, our Grenadiers driving them from their Batteries in disorder. The Companys of Reinforcements of the Regiments of the Rhinegrave and Solari being arriv'd near Ostiglia; the first are order'd to march to our Camp, and the others to relieve the Garrisons of Ostiglia, Pontemolino, and Mirandola. 23. We had a false Alarm by some Boats that came down the Po in the Evening; upon which Prince Eugene order'd 300 Horse to patroll along the Po, and Count Montecuculi to keep Guard all Night with the Regiment of Horse of Visconti for the security of our Baggage. General Neuberg and Baron Riedt who command in Borgoforte are warn'd to keep a strict Watch, and have a careful Eye to their Bridges. 24. The Enemy have cannonaded us, and we have answer'd them vigorously. One of our Balls kill'd a Centinel at the Duke of Anjou's Gate: The Enemy are at work on a Redoubt near Borgoforte, and they seem to design to bombard that place anew. We gall them sorely with our great Guns and Musquets; They have sent some of their Baggage to Casal Maggiore, and above 400 Waggon loads of wounded. 25. The Enemy have made a great Forrage, but their Convoy being too strong we durst not attack them: They carry on their Works against Borgoforte. 26. We foraged on our side: This Night we had a terrible Storm, which has broken the Enemy's Bridges; They are getting them in order again, and we have taken some of their Boats that have fallen down the River. 27. The Duke of Mantua has left the Army, and 'tis said the Duke of Anjou will follow him very shortly.

From the Paris Gazette, Dated Sept. 16.

From the Army at Luzara, Septemb. 4. On the 27th ult. a violent Tempest; accompanied with Hail of an extraordinary bigness, broke the Bridge of Borgoforte and ours at Luzara, which were put in order again in 4 or 5 Hours. On the 28th Prince Eugene wrote to the Duke de Vendome, and propos'd a Cartel for the Exchange and Ransom of Prisoners: The King of Spain consented to it, tho' the Enemy refus'd it last Year, and Commissioners were nam'd on both sides. On the 19th the Town of Guastalla was invested by 12 Battaillons, and 26 Squadrons, of the Army of Prince Vaudemont, commanded by the Marquess de Vaubecourt Lieutenant General. The Trenches were open'd not far from the place in the Night of the 21st, by Monsieur de Villepion on the Right, and Monsieur de St. Peter on the Left; there were but 4 or 5 Soldiers kill'd or wounded in the first and second Night; The Marquis de Vaubecourt order'd the Cannon to play upon a Steeple, from whence the besieged very much incommode the Trenches, which is beaten down. In the Night of the 3d, the Batteries of Cannon and Mortars were carried on, and this Morning they began to batter the foot of the Wall; and hope to be able to fix their Mines to Night. The place is encompass'd by a large Ditch: but there is no Outworks and but few great Guns: The Garrison consists of 1500 Men, commanded by Count Solari. The Contributions are settled with the Towns in the Dutchys of Modena and Reggio, which have oblig'd themselves to pay a certain Summ of Money, and to provide Forrage. The Armys are in the same Posts, and continue to fire on each other with great and small Shot; but the Enemy suffer most, because the King of Spain has the greatest number of Artillery. To day the Cartel was concluded in the same manner as in former Wars; but on condition that the exchange shall not begin to be made till the Imperialists have brought back from Hungary the Prisoners which they sent thither contrary to the custom of War.

Basil, Septemb. 10. Count Trautmanndorf the Imperial Envoy has by a formal Renunciation made void the hereditary Alliance between the Cantons of Switzerland and the House of Austria; because most of the Popish Cantons are for making good the ancient Capitulation with the Dutchy of Milan, in favour of the Duke of Anjou, and accordingly will raise 4000 Men for his Service. He has given them 10 days, to begin from the 9th Instant, to enter into a new Alliance with the Emperor, and in case they do not come to some terms of Agreement by that time, the Commerce between the Emperor's Subjects and the Swiss will be prohibited, and all Goods will be seiz'd at the Toll-houses and confiscated; and 'tis said that the Imperialists have already stopp'd provisionally 4 Waggon loads that were going from Basil to the yearly Market at Zurzag.

Riga, Aug. 27. We have certain Intelligence that the Muscovites are come as far as Wolmar, within a few Miles of this City, and have burnt that Town and the Villages that lay about it, killing and drowning some of the Militia that they found in Wolmar. We expected yesterday that they would have drawn nearer to this place, but we have advice now that they have divided their Army into 3 Bodys, of which one of about 25000 Horse is marching towards Marienburg and onwards to Poland, the others towards Nerva and Scanterny: We hear every Day of Towns, Villages and Farms being burnt; and such a multitude of People are fled hither, that there is not room enough to lodge them in the City.
